The Story of Complok E-learning

While working on leading positions in several banks during the biggest money-laundering scandals that hit Estonia, Mari-Liis discovered that the financial market lacks AML and compliance proficiency. So, she established an Estonian consulting firm Complok with a mission to increase compliance awareness all over Europe.

Soon she had a team of experts by her side, ready to provide consultancy and training on all AML topics. As the financial institutions from multiple jurisdictions were lining up to receive high-quality training, the market demand for a new provider was proven.

However, the COVID-19 changed the social interaction dynamics, and Complok moved the courses online. Zoom was an obvious choice but soon displayed its deficiencies – frequent problems with internet quality, time zone differences, training process tracking problems, too generous certification handouts, etc. Technical limitations killed the substance.

As a next step, Mari-Liis partnered up with her cousin, Maarja-Liisa Soe, to create fully online courses using an external e-learning platform. After the production and delivery of the firsts courses, it turned out that conventional e-learning platforms don't have what it takes to meet financial sector needs in a cost-effective way. External partners are too slow to enhance their platforms, commission fees are high, and the financial sector does not trust random sites to host their employees' personal data.

Logically, the idea of building an entirely new digital ecosystem for financial sector training emerged, and the two strong women gathered a team to test the waters. Endless discussions lead to the decision to create the best All-In-One AML training centre in the World!

AML training is mandatory by law.

Regulatory landscape is constantly evolving.

Financial Institutions need a rolling training plan and get their employees AML certified

The market faces deficit of AML experts, lecturers and high-quality training courses

Financial Institutions' in-house AML resources are exhausted to develop AML training

Financial Institutions are constantly searching for new solutions to fill their training demand

Financial institutions might be imposed a fine if they don't train their employees regularly

Problem

Financial Institutions struggle to find a professional and agile training provider who could:

- ✓ Deliver high-quality AML training
- ✓ Deliver the training to an unlimited number of employees
- ✓ Ensure that employees are completing the training and qualify for the certificate
- ✓ Ensure that the certification is recognized by market experts
- ✓ Provide regularly updated trainings. Regulatory landscape is constantly evolving, and trends are subject to change that need immediate actions

Solution: All-In-One Online AML Training Center

COMPLOK

We offer high-quality AML training to an unlimited number of employees on our E-learning platform

Delivering courses on an e-learning platform is a spin-off of Complok and it features:

- ✓ Possibility to train unlimited number of employees simultaneously
- ✓ Individual learning experience; there is no need to gather people together physically
- ✓ Suitable for all working hours and time zones
- ✓ Enables tracking the learning process and conduct knowledge tests automatically
- ✓ Certificates are given out to the ones who have gained the knowledge and passed the tests
- ✓ Lecturers can set-up their courses at the time suitable for them
- ✓ New employees can be trained instantly
- ✓ Dynamic content creation:

14 days

to adapt an existing AML course according to customers' needs

28 days

to create and design a specific on-demand AML course

E-learning platform developed for one purpose only: get your employees AML certified.

Benefits of having an in-house platform:

For customer:

- ✓ Content oriented
- ✓ High level of cyber security: customer's database is securely kept
- ✓ Customer's HR has full access to employees' statistics and certificates
- ✓ Certificates based on blockchain technology
- ✓ White-labeling functionality
- ✓ No distracting bells and whistles
- ✓ No adverts, no spam

For us:

- ✓ Not depending on external partner
- ✓ No commission fees
- ✓ We can react faster to customers' needs
- ✓ We can provide higher level of cyber security as we have our own database
- ✓ We can make IT developments regarding customer's needs
